

Rajasthan's Chief Minister, Ashok Gehlot, has accepted investment proposals of Rs 71,486 crore, with over 26,000 jobs expected to be created.

Gehlot said many significant industrial players are now drawn to the state because of its favourable industrial policies while chairing the second meeting of the Board of Investment \(BOI\) at his official house. This will help the state's industrial growth even more.

He also provided instructions on how to prepare for the Invest Rajasthan Summit.

Gehlot also ordered authorities to create a feasibility assessment on establishing a ceramic centre in Bikaner division, citing the abundance of raw materials for the sector, as well as investigate the possibilities of establishing a gas infrastructure in the area.
