

Astra Rafael Comsys Private Limited, a joint venture company (JVC) of Astra Microwave Products Ltd, will develop, manufacture, integrate, customise, and provide product support for Electro Optic (EO) systems.

Astra and its associates own a 51% stake in this JVC.

In order to improve situational awareness on ground, aerial, and marine based assets, the EQ systems are high value, technologically complicated optical and infrared imaging systems utilised extensively for military and homeland security applications.

In difficult combat field situations, these sensors help our armed forces identify targets, track moving targets, and offer surveillance, navigation, and early warning data.
