

At the Jeedimetla pharmaceutical cluster, the Bulk Drug Manufacturers Association (BDMA) is establishing a Technology and Training Center for skill enhancement. The establishment of such a facility for the employees of a particular industry by an industry organisation is a first for the nation. According to a press release, the proposed facility will be operational in April and will be built on one acre of land that TSIC has given out on a long-term lease. The facility will serve as a single place for cutting-edge research and testing, and it will enhance Jeedimetla's pharmaceutical cluster. BDMA National President, R K Agrawal said, "The training center is aimed at providing specific training to manpower engaged in the manufacturing operations and quality control in API industry. Training will be given to fresh graduates making them suitable for the bulk drug industry where member units can train their new recruits."
