

Celebi Delhi Cargo Terminal Management India Pvt Ltd plans to invest Rs 150 crore to upgrade infrastructure at its facility in the national capital.

The business, which is a subsidiary of Celebi Aviation, manages two cargo terminals at the Delhi airport with a combined annual capacity of 7,00,000 tonnes.

Prior to April 2019, when Jet Airways' operations were halted, one of the two terminals catered solely to that airline. The terminal remained inactive when the airline stopped operating.

The company reopened the renovated terminal last month to begin processing goods from the recently launched Akasa Air.
