

A prominent provider of energy-efficient solutions and industrial automation, Fuji Electric India, has opened an environmentally friendly factory in Chennai.

The opening was attended by Yosuke Ishizaka, MD, Shivaji Waghmare, CEO, Kentaroh Yamaguchi, director, and B Karthik, business head – Automation Division from Fuji Electric India.

Citing reasons for the expansion, Waghmare said, “The first is to invest in latest manufacturing technology in close collaboration with our parent company in Japan to provide high quality products. The second is to increase capacity ahead of market requirements to meet our customers’ growing demand.”

“Some of the critical equipment have been imported from Japan to match manufacturing processes between Fuji Electric India and the 100-year-old Fuji Electric,” said Yamaguchi.
