

Greta Electric Scooters has announced network expansion plans targeting over 50 touchpoints in key tier two cities in the ongoing financial year.

The company is a wholly-owned arm of Raj Electromotives Pvt Ltd. In the first phase, the company intends to reach cities where self-owned two-wheelers form the backbone of commute rather than public transport.

The recent opening of a showroom in Leh, Ladakh, was one step in the direction, Greta Electric Scooters said in a release.
