

On around 500 acres of land in Rohtak, the Haryana government would establish a “Footwear-Leather” cluster, according to the deputy chief minister Dushyant Chautala. According to the minister, ITI students in the region of Rohtak will also receive training by being connected to the footwear sector, allowing local employers in the leather industry to hire talented workers close to where they live.

Presiding over a joint-meeting of MSME (micro, small and medium enterprises) addressing officers and office bearers of Footwear Industry Association, Chautala, who also holds the charge of industries and commerce department, said, “Haryana government is extending a lot of facilities to the industrialists in the state so that they do not face any problem in running their industries, due to which local youth will also get employment opportunities.”
