

Kinetic Green Energy & Power Solutions has announced a collaboration with Aima Technology Group, a worldwide electric vehicle giant, to co-design and build electric two-wheelers for the rapidly increasing Indian market.

Kinetic and Aima have formed a long-term partnership to jointly develop electric two-wheeled vehicles for the Indian market.

Aima will aid Kinetic with design, as well as support for model revisions and rapid localization to meet the needs of Indian customers.

They want to debut at least three new models in India between 2022 and 2023, including models based on Aima's new advanced high-speed scooter platform.
