

The launch of Xypex India and the completion of a new production facility in Noida, India, are being announced with pride by Xypex Chemical Corporation, a global leader in construction solutions for waterproofing through crystallisation.

For more than 20 years, Xypex has collaborated with ApaarInfratech, its sole distributor in India, to build solid business ties in the private construction industry and government projects.

Due to the expansion of its business in the area, it made the decision to import the proprietary chemicals from its production base and corporate headquarters in Richmond, British Columbia, and construct its first batching plant there.

India is becoming a more significant part of their worldwide growth strategy.

It has achieved a strong market presence in recent years participating in infrastructure projects in the transport and hydroelectric sectors as well as commercial and residential building.
