

In the third quarter of the current financial year, Larsen & Toubro (L&T) claimed its heavy engineering unit received major contracts for its various business sectors.

L&T Heavy Engineering's modification, revamp, and upgrade (MRU) business has been granted a significant contract by a leading Middle Eastern petroleum industry customer, according to a statement.

It includes thorough engineering, the procurement of crucial equipment and components, and multi-disciplinary site work that includes multiple staggered shutdowns during which the refurbishment work will be completed.
