

Uniper, based in Germany, has agreed to purchase green ammonia from Greenko ZeroC's Kakinada facility in Andhra Pradesh.

“Under the MoU, the two companies intend to negotiate pricing, supply, and tenure structure for a supply and purchase agreement for 2,50,000 tonnes per annum of green ammonia (GASPA) based on the heads of terms,” Greenko Group parent company said in a statement. The Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) and heads of terms were signed by Uniper and Greenko ZeroC during the ongoing India Energy Week in Bengaluru in the presence of Petroleum Minister Hardeep Singh Puri, Greenko CEO Anil Chalmalasetty, Uniper CCO Niek den Hollander, and other senior company officials, according to a statement.

Greenko's Kakinada project is a multi-phase green ammonia production and export facility which is in the process of adding up to 1 MTPA of green ammonia production capacity by 2027.
