

A team from Indian conglomerate Vedanta visited Pune to assess the viability of establishing an electronic chip manufacturing in the area, according to a government official.

Under the government's incentive scheme, Vedanta Group companies have applied to build up semiconductor and display production units in the country.

"A team from Vedanta visited Pune on Thursday. They were just assessing the place and the ecosystem for their proposed semiconductor unit," an official from the Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation (MIDC) said.
