

The West Bengal government intends to establish a 200-acre textile park said a senior official.

The state is currently in the process of identifying the land to establish the textile park in PaschimMedinipur district's Salboni, at Durgapur and Asansol in PaschimBardhaman district of the state, it added.

"The identification process for the land to set up the proposed Textile Park is underway. Hopefully, we will soon zero in on it," a bureaucrat informed.

The decision for the textile park came after a workshop on 'Expanding opportunities in the Textiles sector of West Bengal' organised by the state department of MSME and Textiles.
