

Despite the unusual circumstances, Indian Railways continues to extend its train network. The Rewa-Sidhi new rail line project is building a 3338-meter-long railway tunnel in this sequence.

This is Madhya Pradesh's longest railway tunnel. This information was provided by the Railway Ministry via Twitter.

The first broad gauge single line underground railway tunnel is being built between Govindgarh and Bagwar stations as part of the new rail line project between Rewa and Sidhi.
